City Employees Ask Part-Time Work Check

A delegation of 14 Redwood City city employees were closeted with City Mgr. E. W. Blom for an hour and a half Monday morning, demanding interpretation of a letter issued Saturday by Blom. In the letter Blom had threatened employees engaged in part-time work for business organizations other than the city with summary dismissal.

Before entering the city manager's office for what Blom ruled a closed session, the employees said they were seeking clarification of the letter, high wages and shorter working hours. Some of them maintained it was impossible to make a living on what the city pays its employees.

After the meeting Blom said that no decision had been reached on the wage issue. He said that he had informed employees that he would decide each on petition to work in spare time on its individual merits. Cases, he continued, will be decided on a basis of whether the outside activities hinder employees in their city work.

Regarding working hours, he said he had promised employees that schedules will be rearranged in order that injustices in present work schedules will be alleviated.

A delegation member said after the meeting that Blom's authority to issue such an order had been questioned at the meeting and that the city manager had said he believed he had the authority to make the letter order stick.

In his letter, Blom said that "there may have been some justification for this practice during the war years, particularly in the case of off-time employment in war plants or similar activities. This period of emergency is over and I can see no justification for continued approval of this practice except in cases where it can be definitely shown that no loss of efficiency to the city will result."

Menlo May Appeal For High School

Mayor Charles P. Burgess of Menlo Park said Monday that he understood the Menlo Park City Council was "vaguely considering" attending the next Sequoia Union High School Board of Trustees session in order to make a plea for a high school in the Menlo Park area. The mayor said that the election at which district voters by a clear majority turned down a proposed $1,500,000 bond issue for Sequoia was a clear sign of how Menlo Park citizens felt. Menlo Park voters were in the minority, turning in a top-heavy vote favoring the $1,500,000 issue which would have provided a school building in their area.

He said that the city council was split regarding a proposal that board of trustees submit an $800,000 bond issue as a substitution for the $1,500,000 issue. An $800,000 issue, the mayor said, would contain no local benefit for Menlo Park and would, therefore, be none of the council's affair.

He noted, however, that other councilmen had differing views. One councilman, he said, was planning to campaign actively for such an issue should it be placed before voters, while another was just as strongly convinced that he would campaign against it.

Burglars Foiled In East Palo Alto

A burglar or burglars who attempted to enter Weidmann's Pharmacy at 1492 Bayshore Hwy., East Palo Alto, Tuesday, about 10:30 were frightened away by E. J. Werdehn who lives above the store.

J. H. Percy, proprietor of the store, notified the San Mateo County sheriff's office that the glass in the front door had been broken, but that a double lock made entry difficult.

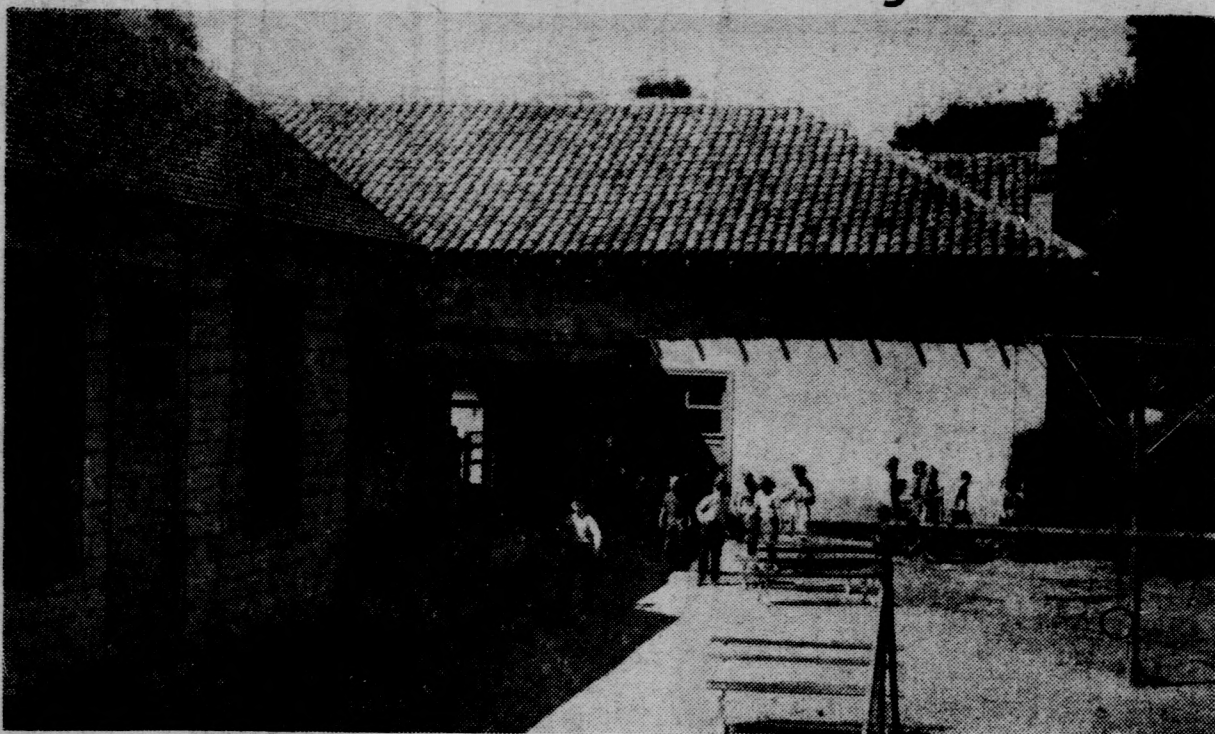

Mr. Werdehn heard a noise, arose and saw what he believed to be two men at the door. He shouted and they left.

Woodside School Face-Lifting Assured

Woodside Bond Issue Approved, Sequoia Calls Special Meeting

Woodside voters Tuesday put over a $48,000 elementary school district bond issue by a top-heavy five-and-one-half to one count. The issue, designed for expansion of the Greensburg Elementary School, required a two-thirds majority to pass.

Complete unofficial tabulation set the vote at 169 yes and 31 no votes, totaling 200. Two spoiled ballots brought the total vote for the day to 202. Trustees of the district will canvass the votes at a special meeting Tuesday, Apr. 2.

According to a unanimous pre-election agreement by the board of trustees, the money voted yesterday will be spent for two additional classrooms at Greensburg School. Additional ground, to the rear of the present building, will be acquired and an adequate playground also will be provided.

Trustee W. W. Mein Jr. had voiced the sentiments of the board when he said the school is greatly overcrowded, and action is needed now to alleviate the condition. He said today that the building program will probably not be affected by yesterday's government order restricting building other than homes for veterans, inasmuch as the additional rooms at Greensburg are an "essential project."

The trustees will meet at the school Saturday at 10 a.m. with architects and Dr. Charles Birch, representing the State Dept. of Education, to ascertain exact needs for additions to the school.

Results of the Saturday meeting will be presented to the public at the Public School Week demonstration in the auditorium of the school at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, Apr. 11. The same evening is the annual Parent-Teacher Assn.'s Father's Night.

It was also disclosed today that trustee Joseph Hallett, secretary and long-time member of the board, will be a candidate for reelection in the forthcoming school board election. Previously, Hallett had indicated he would not agree to run.

Sequoia Union High School trustees Tuesday scheduled a special meeting for next Tuesday at which time they will hear first discussions on the problem, "What next for Sequoia." The trustees slated the special meeting after canvassing returns from an election at which voters turned down a proposal for a $1,500,000 bond issue for a Sequoia building program.

At Tuesday's meeting, Harold W. Lindsay, 76 Nevada St., urged that trustees obtain expert opinion on construction needs before proposing a substitute bond issue. He claimed there was no doubt voters recognized a need for a Sequoia building program but believed the last proposal was ill-conceived.

The canvass showed that 2656 voters were not in favor of the issue and 2331 favored it. There were 32 void votes.

Later Tuesday, members of the Menlo Park City Council which had backed the $1,500,000 approved Lindsay's suggestion and said they would attend the next trustees' meeting.

Two R.C. Veterans Arrive From Pacific

Two Redwood City veterans were due in San Francisco aboard the USS Kershaw from Okinawa, the United States Fleet Service reported today.

The men are John W. McCarthy, Y 1 c, 50 Hudson St., and Christian C. Kroijer, SC 3 c, 616 Canyon Rd.

O'Brien Estate Valued at $105,080

Mrs. Marguerite O'Brien of Hillsborough left an estate valued at $105,080.99 when she died Feb. 27, 1945. Appraiser Bradford M. Melvin reported in an inventory and appraisal filed in superior court today.

Listed among Mrs. O'Brien's estate was the miscellaneous item: "One miniature French poodle named 'Blackie,' valued at $30." Mrs. O'Brien, widow of a wealthy Canadian banker, died in the street near her home. She lived at 548 Ravenscourt, Hillsborough.

Her estate includes numerous mining stock, jewelry, cars, real estate and cash.

Pair Seek Damages For Auto Injuries

Two men injured in a Bayshore Hwy. accident in San Mateo in which a heavy truck and trailer flattened seven parked cars last month today filed suits for damages in San Mateo County superior court.

William Shelley, driver of a panel truck which was involved in the collision, asks $940 damages for loss of personal property, $10,000 general damages, loss of earnings ($500 monthly, the complaint stated) and medical expenses.

Olan McKasle, passenger, asks $5000 and costs from John A. Zien-dick and Morrow Bros. Trucking Co. The accident occurred Feb. 22.

Sunday 'A' Bus Service to Halt

Martin Transportation Co. announced today that it is discontinuing Sunday service on its "A" route effective next Sunday, Mar. 31. No reason was given for the move.

All other routes would continue operating as usual, the company explained.

PITCHER APPOINTED

Stanley P. Pitcher, San Mateo superintendent of parks, has been appointed by the Peninsula Gardeners' Assn. to head an advisory committee which will assist the San Mateo Junior College in a project designed to train young people to be professional gardeners.

E.P.A. Man Cited On Garbage Law

Under a tightening of Menlo Park's garbage ordinance, Wilhelm Lew, 1197 Peach St., East Palo Alto, was arrested by Menlo Park police Monday afternoon on a count of illegal garbage removal. He was released from the San Mateo County Jail last night on $250 bail.

According to Police Chief Jack Yount, Lew had been removing garbage from the city in improper containers by means of an unsuitable truck. In addition, Yount said, removal of garbage from Menlo Park must be carried on under a contract with the city.

Lew, who had made no agreement with the city council, was collecting with the city council, was collecting refuse for use as hog food and hauling it to a hog ranch he operates.

Automatic Watering Is Magic Trick for Seed Box

To equip a seed box with automatic watering, 1, bore hole in bottom; 2, put wick through hole, imbed frayed top in soil, drop bottom in pan of water; 3, fill box with soil, and make shallow drills; 4, sow seed, and as long as pan is full of water, wick will keep soil moist.

An important labor-saving device widely used in greenhouses is automatic watering. Unfortunately amateurs cannot use it on their gardens, but they can easily apply it to seed boxes, in which seeds are started either indoors or outdoors. Through a hole bored in the center of the bottom of the seed box, a wick of fine glass, or just a piece of clothes line 4 inches long, is inserted. The top is frayed and imbedded in the soil that fills the box and the bottom drops into a pan of water. As long as water is kept in this pan, the wick will raise it and keep the soil moist.

Tests have shown that plants watered in this way make maximum growth because water is always abundant, and yet not in excess; and since water is never applied to the surface, there is no washing, and no compacting of soil, which would check aeration.

With such a seed box, in a sunny window, hot-bed or cold-frame, you can give your favorite varieties of vegetables and flowers several weeks' head start this spring, and insure an earlier harvest of food or beauty.

Soil used in a seed box should always be put through a sieve. The coarse soil may be used in the bottom, the fine on top. Florists' potting soil is the best, or a fine garden loam, about half sand. Sphagnum moss should be used to prevent damping-off, which is a fungus disease that frequently attacks seedlings. Rub the moss through a coarse sieve or colander and place a layer of this shredded moss over the soil in the flat to the depth of 1/4 to 1/2 inch. Firm and saturate soil and moss. Drop the seeds on the moss, and cover very lightly with a thin layer of sphagnum. Proceed from this point on as with soil culture.

Seed may be broadcast one variety to a flat, or sown in rows, which allow several varieties to be grown in the same box, each row being labeled. Seeds which are broadcast are usually less crowded than those in rows. If you sow in rows, use the edge of a ruler to make shallow indentations in the soil; sow thinly, cover lightly, and firm the soil with a block of wood. Keep the box in a dark place until sprouts appear, then place in the sunniest window you own. A kitchen window is good, because humidity is always greater there.

Seeks $10,000 In S.C. Accident

Asking $10,000 for injuries suffered when a meter-hole cover fell through and she broke a leg, Mrs. Beulah Vuyas of 2696 San Carlos Ave., San Carlos, today filed a damage suit against the California Water Service Co.

Mrs. Vuyas claimed she suffered permanent injury as a result of the accident which occurred Oct. 4, 1945.

News of Commuters

BY JOE CABOOSE

An open letter to the dairy industry:

Dear Sirs: We have dealt with one home delivery company exclusively for the past 15 years and our books show we have paid this firm in excess of $2000. Since the first of the year the driver has left us one-half pound of butter, explaining his company had discontinued marketing it. The reason, we understand, is because at present prices the industry can make more money on ice cream and other by-products.

We have four growing children who need butter like they need fresh air and sunshine. They are fond of ice cream, but not fond enough to eat it three times a day and spread it on hot-cakes and toast for breakfast.

It is not our intention here to belabor OPA, to attack or defend it. Frankly, we don't know whether it is good or bad at this juncture of our postwar convalescence. But we do know that currently OPA is the law of the land, that the great majority of our citizens (according to every poll) still favor it. And that is the principle of our democracy—majority rule!

The point is, we think the dairy industry has missed a golden opportunity to justify America's vaunted system of free enterprise and to show in what manner our so-called capitalistic economy is superior in serving the public interest over the various collectivist and "production-for-use" systems. We know that business is organized for profit, but then comes a time such as the present—when profits have to yield temporarily to the public welfare.

The medical profession is also a business organized for profit. And yet the practitioner who refuses an emergency call because he might not get paid is unworthy of his calling.

Suppose during these few months of readjustment from war to peace, your profit on butter is cut down? Suppose you have to market it at cost, or even lose a cent or two? So what? You've had to take losses before. And you survived.

What a glorious thing it would be for your own conscience, for the edification of American business, and for public morale and good will—if you could bring yourselves to say: "Well, we can't make any money marketing butter at these prices, but this is an emergency which will soon pass, and we must keep faith with our customers. We can't let their children go without this essential and life-giving food."

Respectfully yours,

Joe Caboose
P. S. If you were producing your normal peace-time quota of butter and it were being shipped overseas to succor the starving millions, we would have no complaint. But are you? Incidentally, isn't this a magnificent opportunity to demonstrate to the world the worth of our capitalistic system by sharing its tremendous productivity with the unfortunate victims of totalitarian and collectivist regimes? J. C.

The current bulletin of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce states that through the Peninsula, East Bay and North Bay gateways 190 million passenger trips were made to and from San Francisco during 1945. Exclusive of waterborne arrivals, this represents a daily average of 438,000 separate trips, or 219,000 round-trips. That's a lot of commuting! More than a third of this traffic—36.2 per cent—was by way of the Peninsula. Fifty-three and five-tenths per cent was from the East Bay, and 10.3 from Marin, over the Golden Gate Bridge.

We finally got our driver's license renewed, by getting down to the highway patrol office Saturday morning a half hour before opening and standing in line. It was our second Saturday off from work since Pearl Harbor, and our first opportunity to renew a license which expired in 1942. The personnel in attendance are very courteous and efficient. It's too bad, however, the hours can't be staggered so a person would not have to lay off work to get his license.

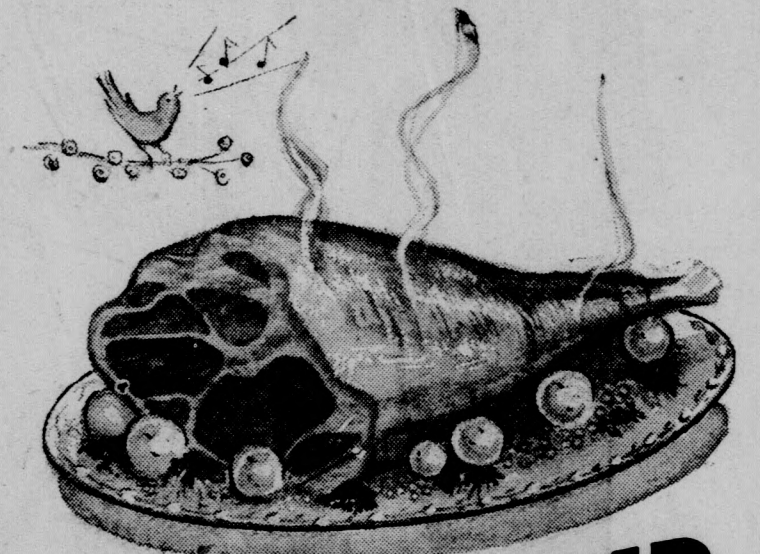

While standing in line we overheard a tiny youngster ask his dad if he could see the "office horse." "What do you mean, office horse?" queried the perplexed father. "Well," replied the boy, pointing to the door of the highway patrol, "It says right there, 'office h-o-u-s-e' (which he pronounced 'office horse')."

Food manufacturers must have their little jokes. Being fond of paste dishes (they're inexpensive) we bought a package of "Golden Grain Twisted Noodles," which we hadn't seen before. The directions say "Cook five minutes, drain, then pour two heaping tablespoons of melted butter over the noodles and sprinkle with grated cheese!"

Going through the grade schools this week will be this classic: There was a young lad named Bill Who swallowed an atomic pill; His toe nails corroded, His eyeballs exploded, And his ears came down in Brazil.

Hession Enters Race Against Ferrell. Mrs. Tom Kane Files

Dennis Hession, San Mateo attorney, Monday opened an attack upon incumbent Gilbert Ferrell as the World War II navy officer filed nomination papers for the post of district attorney.

Hession, who earlier this month announced his candidacy, issued a statement by his campaign manager which criticized Ferrell for his "lack of willingness to enforce the law," his record of convictions on largely reduced charges and his rare personal appearances in court.

Other persons seeking elective posts who filed nomination papers Monday were Mrs. Ethel B. Kane, widow of the late Thomas Kane, who seeks the county controller's office now held by Fred E. Beer, and Atty. Joseph F. O'Malley, candidate for justice of the peace in the Fifth Township.

Vincent Cullinan, San Mateo attorney who is chairman of Hession's campaign committee, said, "The present district attorney apparently does not possess the vigor or ability to meet the problems of his office — problems which are expanding as San Mateo County grows. He rarely appears in court and his few appearances have largely been unsuccessful. The record of convictions by his office shows that most are secured on reduced charges."

The 1945-46 Grand Jury accused him of refusal to co-operate in law enforcement in this county."

Hession attended Stanford University and Hastings College of Law of the University of California. He was appointed deputy attorney general by Gov. Earl Warren, then attorney general, but was called to active duty as a naval reserve officer at outbreak of war. He served in the 12th Naval Dist. intelligence office as supervisor of investigations for two and a half years, then served as operations and intelligence officer on the staff of Commander Destroyer Squadron 23 until end of the war.

Hession makes his home with his wife and son at 3146 Hacienda St., San Mateo. His father, Jess Hession, a Sacramento attorney, was formerly district attorney of Inyo County.

Mrs. Kane seeks the controller's post taken over by Beer following the death of her husband.

She is currently employed as a nurse.

O'Malley will oppose incumbent Gus B. Rizzo.

County Gets 490 Units Of Plasma

The American Red Cross and the State Department of Public Health have allocated 490 units of dried blood plasma which is available for civilian use in San Mateo County. This plasma is to be distributed through the County Health and Welfare Dept.

The plasma, recovered from blood donated to the American Red Cross during the war and now declared surplus, will be made available without charge to civilians who need it. As the supply here is used, additional lots will be received from the State Department of Public Health which has been designated by the Red Cross as the central distributing agency in California.

The local plan for distribution is to be made through the hospitals in the county and is available for all practicing physicians within the county. The following allocations have been made to the various hospitals.

Mills Memorial Hospital	162 units
San Francisco Hospital	36 units
Community Hospital of San Mateo County	306 units

Private physicians requiring use of this plasma outside of the hospitals can contact Dr. Charles C. Gans in the County Health Dept. and receive the necessary supply without charge.

"Availability of the plasma in no way diminishes need for people to donate blood to civilian blood donor centers," according to Mrs. Hanzlick of the San Mateo County Blood Bank. "Dried plasma is most effective in about one out of every four cases requiring transfusions and whole blood should be used in about 75 per cent of cases."

CALCAGNO ESTATE VALUED

Filippo Calcagno, who died Sept. 27, 1945, left an estate valued at $14,999.44, according to an appraisal made by Bradford M. Melvin filed in superior court here today.

Nickel May Be Small, But Look—

The southern half of San Mateo County and the northern half of Santa Clara County is investing approximately 63,500 nickels weekly in one-armed bandits, vending machines and juke boxes, a survey of Redwood City bank coin importations showed today.

Bankers said that they could account for their necessary importations in no other manner. Each week, they explain, they must import from San Francisco banks approximately $3175 worth of nickels. Each week this many nickels—approximately a ton—disappears from the county. And there is apparently only one place they can go—into the machines which are emptied into the coffers of San Francisco enterprisers mainly.

At the Bank of America National Trust & Savings Assn. branch at 2100 Broadway, John Kast, chief clerk, estimated that Bank of America alone ships 60,000 nickels into the south county area from San Francisco. He said that his branch did not figure in this amount to any extent because it just about breaks even each week on nickels.

At other Bank of America branches, however, it is a different story, he said. They pass out the 60,000 worth of hard money each week.

At the Bank of America branch at California St. and Broadway figures of Elsworth Lockerby, chief clerk, showed that 8000 nickels are imported weekly.

At the First National Bank, Broadway and Main Sts., L. A. Behrens, assistant cashier, said approximately 1000 more nickels were passed out than turned in during each week.

At the American Trust Co., Redwood City branch, Broadway and California St., Herman Kuhnle, chief clerk, estimated 2500 nickels are imported each week.

All bankers, of course, pointed out that actually much more money probably went through one-armed bandits and vending machines than the importations indicate. One pointed out that out of each "take" the establishment housing the machines kept a certain percentage. This percentage stays in the south county and is oftentimes turned into banks in lump sums.

The importations, therefore, show only the amount of nickels which are shipped out of the area.

Of course, possibly there is some other reason for the disappearance of nickels other than the explanation given by bankers since Sheriff James J. McGrath has maintained that so far as he knows there is no illegal gambling of any kind in San Mateo County and not one one-armed bandit operating.

Marchbank Faces Four Libel Suits

Four Daly City councilmen Monday filed libel suits against John W. Marchbank, owner of the Daly City Record and San Mateo County political figure, charging "false and defamatory" publications of advertisements criticizing the ouster of Police Chief James Reardon.

The four complaints also name Harold P. Bradshaw, editor, John N. McHugh, secretary, and Peter J. Kelly, member of "The Citizens Committee of Daly City," as defendants.

Councilmen instigating the action through Atty. J. W. Coleberd are John Craig, Bert Merritt, Edward Dennis and Howard McHugh.

Each plaintiff asks $25,000 damages plus costs.

The suits refer to an advertisement printed in the Record on May 3, 1945, which termed each councilman "Charlie McCarthy," meaning that, in the actions and conduct of plaintiff as a member of the Daly City Council, plaintiff was not controlled by his honest judgment, but was controlled by and subject to the force and influence of some person or persons other than plaintiff.

On June 21, 1945, an advertisement signed by John McHugh as secretary of the "Citizens Committee," again referred to the plaintiffs as "McCarthys," the complaints stated.

The complaints declared publication was made "through ill will and malice," and with "the intent, design and purpose . . . to injure plaintiff in his reputation and discredit and defame plaintiff into public distrust and into public contempt and ridicule."

The May 3 advertisement criticized Reardon's ouster, and the court appeal instigated by the council after Reardon had been granted $2137.37 back pay plus court costs.

It said the councilmen were "only 'stooges'."

On June 21, an advertisement signed by the citizens' committee containing a letter to the council questioned Coleberd's legal representation of Councilman McHugh, and asked, " . . . also are there any 'forces in the shadows' resisting the action of the chief of police?"

Marchbank is a former owner of Tanforan Race Track. He now resides in the East Bay.

Brisbane Boy Injured by Rifle Bullet

A 14-year-old Brisbane boy with a bullet through his head Tuesday was confined to South San Francisco Hospital, and another youth, John R. Burnhill, also 14, was in the County Juvenile Home where he is held a suspect in the shooting—and all because of an apple.

California Highway Patrol officers and deputy sheriffs Tuesday morning reconstructed the affair: The victim, James Thurston, 14, of 46 San Benito Rd., Brisbane, and Norman Brown, 14, of 560 Alvarado St., Brisbane, stopped at a fruitstand where they helped themselves to apples.

Burnhill, who was left in charge of the stand yesterday when his brother-in-law left for Oklahoma, fired at the youths with a .22 rifle, and they fled on bicycles.

Thurston, believing he had been hit by a rock, rode his bicycle nearly a quarter of a mile to a service station where he collapsed, and was subsequently rushed to South San Francisco by William Hendrix.

In the meantime, CHP Officer W. F. Swope Jr., noticing Hendrix's speeding car, gave chase and halted it at Grand Ave. in South San Francisco.

Swope took the injured boy on to the hospital, and radioed the CHP office in Redwood City.

The broadcast was heard by CHP Officers Frank Chevalier, Walter Davis and Elmer Grendy, who had just admonished a youth for shooting at persons.

Burnhill had entered a Brisbane restaurant where the officers were eating and had told them of his shooting, not knowing he had caused injury.

They summoned Burnhill, told him of Thurston's injury, and took him to Redwood City.

Ironrite Ironers Now On Display

Air express shipments of new Ironrite ironers have recently been completed and large crowds of local homemakers are now inspecting the new ironers at the Klang Appliance, 2560 El Camino Real, Redwood City.

As a special feature of this new Ironrite display, an interesting demonstration is being conducted daily to acquaint housewives with the many labor and health saving advantages of the modern new Ironrite ironing method.

The same convenience and energy conserving possibilities which women have long insisted upon in other homemaking duties, through being seated at one's work, are now being demanded in ironing, and the demonstrations at the Klang Appliance show how easily these advantages are obtained.

Little Lady Proves Quite Destructive

A mite of a woman, Mrs. Patricia Edith Cunningham, 24, quietly went to appear in police court Monday where she faces drunk, disturbing the peace and destruction of property charges.

Mrs. Cunningham, who resides at 1005 Vista Rd., San Mateo, was arrested by two Burlingame officers on a drunk charge Sunday night when the melee began.

She tore their uniforms, kicked and bit and force was necessary to control her, police said.

When she was locked in a temporary cell at police headquarters, she destroyed a rubber mattress, tried to tear blankets, and broke supports on the cell bunk.

She was lodged in the county jail overnight.

J-M Production Back to Normal

T. H. Eaton, Johns-Manville Production Corp. manager, said Tuesday production had returned to normal at the Redwood City plant and that management and representatives of the International Longshoremen and Warehousemen's Union, Local 6 (CIO), were coming closer together in attempts to write a new union contract.

The plant suffered a slow down last week while negotiations for a new contract were in process, but Eaton said the slow down was stopped last Friday and that production is back to normal.

Police Give Six Traffic Tags

Redwood City police today announced citing six drivers on charges of violating vehicle codes. Those cited: Speeding—William T. Herbert, 270 South Eighth St., Richmond; Gerald M. Harwood, Box 96, Lindhurst St., San Carlos; T. J. Kanney Jr., 809 Menlo Ave., Menlo Park.

Illegal parking—A. Young, 857 Partridge Rd., Menlo Park.

Passing traffic signal—R. D. Curley, Mount Hermon.

Failure to stop for arterial highway—Walter W. Heine, 1140 Bryant St., Palo Alto.

Two Minor Fires In Redwood City

Redwood City firemen answered two calls Tuesday.

At 2:55 p.m. they answered a call to the S&W parking lot at Heller and Laurel Sts. where an automobile owned by Tom Piattari, 174 Lakeview Way, Emerald Lake, was totally destroyed. Dep. Fire Chief Joe Lodi said he believed the fire in the 1939 Dodge sedan was caused by defective wiring.

At 10:47 p.m. firemen put out a mattress fire on a rear porch at the Hotel de Redwood, Main St. There was no damage reported at this fire.

Seeks Divorce From Announcer

Opal MacDonald today filed suit for divorce from Jack F. MacDonald, San Francisco sports announcer. She asks a portion of his $750 monthly earnings for alimony and support of their children, Jean, 12, and Mary Jane, 6.

The couple was married Dec. 19, 1931, a complaint states. They resided at 715 South Fremont St., San Mateo.

County Firemen Halt Sharp Park Blaze

San Mateo County firemen extinguished a house fire Saturday at 10:36 p.m., at the home of Donald Sutherland, Carmel Ave., Sharp Park, after one room was burnt out.

Dep. Fire Warden Earl Petersen said today that the Rockaway Beach engine had answered a call from neighbors while the Sutherlands were absent. Petersen said the damage amounted to approximately $300 and that the fire was probably started by a misplaced cigaret stub.

Woman Dies
In Coastside
Accident

Mrs. Mary Haight, 65, of Sharp Park, was instantly killed Sunday at 6:30 p.m., in an automobile-pedestrian accident near her home, California Highway Patrol officers said today.

Driver of the automobile,
Mrs. Felice Hartmann, 57, of 1035 Cabrillo St., San Francisco, was released after questioning.
Investigating officers were told by witnesses that Mrs. Haight, who resided at 131 Carmel Ave., apparently became confused as she crossed the Coast Hwy.
Death was attributed to a skull fracture.
She was removed to Lasswell's Mortuary where funeral arrangements are pending.
Mrs. Haight leaves a daughter in San Francisco.

Two men were injured at noon today when a light delivery truck and a passenger car collided head on in a spectacular accident just south of the 19th Ave.-Bayshore Hwy. intersection in San Mateo.

Edward J. Gates, 65, 420 Pope St., Palo Alto, driver of the light truck, was treated at Community Hospital for severe lacerations of the face and fractured ribs, while John E.
Rinehart, 71, Gilroy, was given medical attention for face and body lacerations and possible fractured ribs. Rinehart was driving the passenger vehicle.
The front end of the truck, which was southbound at the time of the accident, was badly damaged, while Rinehart's car, headed north, apparently at a high rate of speed, was almost totally demolished.
After striking the truck the car rolled over several times, coming to a standstill upside down.
A small collie dog riding with Gates was instantly killed.

Father Returns
Girl to Mother

Alice Kreevan, 11-year-old Daly
City girl, sought as a kidnap victim by Bay Area police Saturday, was returned to her home late Saturday afternoon by her father, shortly after the FBI entered the case.

According to Daly City Police,
Navy Officer Maurice Kreevan, father of Alice Kreevan took the girl from play near the home of her mother, Mrs. F. E. Harris, on Saturday morning. Mrs. Harris is the former wife of Kreevan. She had received custody of the child at the time of divorce proceedings and reported that Kreevan had made the threat to get Alice "by hook or crook."

An all-points radio alarm alerted all Peninsula and Bay Area officers in the hunt for the navy officer and girl. FBI Special Agent Paul Kelly rushed to Daly City and from there started the Federal Bureau of Investigation on a hunt for the father and daughter.
Daly City police said today that Alice reported her father only wanted to be in her company for a few hours. The family did not give out any further information as to where they had been while police and FBI were seeking them. Charges against Kreevan were dropped.

School Problems
Studied by CTA

Problems of school finance, salaries, teacher loads and study habits were discussed at the Bay Section Council of the California Teachers Assoc. which met Saturday in San Francisco.

Roy E. Simpson, state superintendent of public instruction, addressed the group emphasizing his philosophy for effective study habits in keeping with the slogan: "Play hard when you play and work hard when you study."

Gerald Masterson
Gets Army Discharge

Gerald R. Masterson, 23, of 1207
Heller St., is back in civilian clothes after being discharged Sunday night at Camp Beale.

As Corporal Masterson, he spent 38 months in the army, including 13 months at Ladd Field, Fairbanks, Alaska, where he was a member of an air forces ground crew with the Air Transport Command. He left Ladd Field for Camp Beale by air
Mar. 19.

Firemen Extinguish
Automobile Blaze

Redwood City firemen extinguished an automobile fire Sunday at 1:20 p.m. at Arguello and Bradford Sts. Wires on the engine of a vehicle owned by Worthy Evans, 741 Rock Ridge Ave., San Carlos, ignited.

Deputy Fire Chief Joe Lodi said the fire was extinguished with no damage although an unidentified bystander suffered second degree burns in attempting to put out the fire.

Use Spring Produce To
Pep Up Appetites

Most of us are experiencing the first twinges of spring fever these days, and appetites aren't always what they should be. But, we've found that the early spring produce does wonders toward putting zip into menus. Here are some of my favorite ways with the just-arrived fruits and vegetables.

GLAZED SPRING CARROTS

We like to serve these with broiled ham or spring lamb chops.

Scrub 18 to 20 small young carrots with a stiff brush. Cook in a small amount of boiling salted water until tender; drain. Melt 4 tablespoons butter or margarine and 2 tablespoons sugar in a frying pan. Add carrots and cook slowly, turning and basting frequently, about 10 minutes or until glazed and shiny in appearance. Serve hot. Serves 6.

WILTED SPINACH

An old favorite in many families is wilted lettuce; here's something similar, using early spring spinach.

Wash young tender spinach well; tear leaves into small pieces. Place in a hot serving dish or salad bowl. Sprinkle with salt and pepper and let stand a few minutes to wilt slightly. Heat together 2 or 3 tablespoons bacon drippings, 1/4 cup vinegar, and a dash of mustard and sugar. When mixture begins to boil, pour over spinach and toss lightly to mix. Garnish with chopped green onion, hard-cooked egg slices and radishes. Serve at once. Serves 6.

GREEN BEANS IN MUSHROOM SAUCE

Here's a good way to stretch a pound of new green beans so it will serve six.

Cook green beans in boiling salted water 20 minutes or until tender. In a saucepan, season a can of condensed cream of mushroom soup with 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce and a little grated onion. Thin with liquid from beans, if desired. Heat soup, stirring until smooth. Add beans and heat through. Serves 6.

RHUBARB UPSIDE-DOWN CAKE

Most families go for upside-down cake, but they'll consider it a special treat when it's made with rhubarb.

Arrange 3 cups diced rhubarb in a well-greased 8"x8"x2" cake pan. Sprinkle with 1 1/2 cups sugar combined with 2 tablespoons corn starch. (I like to use half brown sugar and half granulated.) Mix up your favorite plain or sponge cake recipe and pour over rhubarb. Bake in moderate (350° F.) oven 30 to 40 minutes or until done. Invert on rack to cool. To serve, cut in squares and top with whipped cream.
